The Watch of The Future.

Said a well-known jeweller the other day: "It will not be long before everybody will want the Non-Magnetic Watch." While it has an absolute monopoly, the Compensation Balance and Hair-Spring being made of a Palladium alloy invented by Mr. C. A. Paillard, of Geneva, Switzerland, and thoroughly protected by American and foreign patents (this alloy being the only known non-magnetizable material), still, the price is so low that it costs no more to buy this watch than it does one not having these improvements. The utmost care is taken in manufacturing these watches. The finest American machinery, the most skillful Swiss experts and the costliest jewels are used, and the result is a watch that cannot in any particular be surpassed by any American or foreign time-piece. The rapid introduction of electric railways, the proximity of telegraph wires and telephones, and the rapidly extending use of electric appliances, make the Non-Magnetic Watch a necessity to any one who desires an accurate, satisfactory and reliable watch. Professor Edson says of it: "I have been carrying one of your watches in my pocket and going around dynamos and other electrical appliances, where I have never been able to carry a watch without ruining it, and it has proved an excellent timekeeper."

CALL AND EXAMINE THESE WATCHES.
